Extreme Trees Ellen Lawrence:

Banyan Trees Strangle Their Host! Janey Levy, 2019-12-15 Banyan trees are fig trees that are often known by another name strangler figs There s a good reason for that the seeds land on other trees and sprout there sending down roots that slowly strangle the host tree Readers of this absorbing volume will discover fascinating facts about this odd plant including how it grows and its ecological importance Age appropriate text addresses important elementary science concepts while colorful images enliven the narrative Fact boxes summarize interesting information and a graphic organizer enriches essential concepts Extreme Trees Ellen Lawrence, 2015 Provides information about the unusual adaptations that trees make in order to survive including spiked bark poisonous sap above ground roots and extreme height Extreme Trees Ellen Lawrence, 2020 Which tree weighs as much as 450 elephants and is the heaviest living thing on Earth How can a tree have bark on its trunk that grows in rainbow colors What is the strange red liquid that pours from the trunk of the dragon s blood tree And where in the world can you see a 1 000 year old tree that has two churches carved into its trunk In this title young readers are introduced to some of the plant kingdom s most extreme trees While children enjoy reading about these amazing plants they will be learning plenty of core science information about the parts of trees and their incredible life cycles

Sotheran's Price Current of Literature Henry Sotheran Ltd, 1883 The Banana Tree at the Gate Michael Dove, 2011-01-01 The Hikayat Banjar a seventeenth century native court chronicle from Southeast Borneo characterizes the irresistibility of natural resource wealth to outsiders as the banana tree at the gate Michael R Dove employs this phrase as a root metaphor to frame the history of resource relations between the indigenous peoples of Borneo and the world system standing on its head the prevailing view of resource poor and economically marginal tropical forest dwellers In analyzing production and trade in forest products pepper and especially natural rubber Dove shows that the involvement of Borneo s native peoples in commodity production for global markets is ancient and highly successful This success is based on the development of a dual household economy with distinct subsistence and market oriented sectors which has historically made these smallholders extremely competitive with the large scale heavily capitalized state supported plantation sector Dove sheds new light on the nature of smallholders and in particular their relationship with the global economic system He demonstrates that processes of globalization began millennia ago and that they have been more diverse and less teleological than often thought His analysis replaces the image of the isolated tropical forest community that needs to be helped into the global system with the reality of communities that have been so successful and competitive that they have had to fight political elites to keep from being forced out The ubiquitous but historically inaccurate emphasis on isolation and resource poverty disguises that the overweening characteristic of these communities is their political marginality and that their greatest want is not to be uplifted economically but to be empowered politically The Cultivator & Country Gentleman , 1888 The Florida Agriculturist , 1892 Relics of the Honourable East India Company William Griggs, George
