Democracy is the Answer Alaa Al Aswany,2015-02-15 As the Egyptian revolution unfolded throughout 2011 and the ensuing years no one was better positioned to comment on it and try to push it in productive directions than best selling novelist and political commentator Alaa Al Aswany For years a leading critic of the Mubarak regime Al Aswany used his weekly newspaper column for Al Masry Al Youm to propound the revolution's ideals and to confront the increasingly troubled politics of its aftermath This book presents for the first time in English all of Al Aswany's columns from the period a comprehensive account of the turmoil of the post revolutionary years and a portrait of a country and a people in flux Each column is presented along with a context setting introduction as well as notes and a glossary all designed to give non Egyptian readers the background they need to understand the events and figures that Al Aswany chronicles The result is a definitive portrait of Egypt today how it got here and where it might be headed

Becoming a European Homegrown Jihadist Bart Schuurman,2025-10-01 How and why do people become involved in European homegrown jihadism This book addresses this question through an in depth study of the Dutch Hofstadgroup infamous for containing the murderer of filmmaker Theo van Gogh who was killed in November 2004 in Amsterdam and for plotting numerous other terrorist attacks The Hofstadgroup offers a window into the broader phenomenon of homegrown jihadism that arose in Europe in 2004 and is still with us today Utilizing interviews with former Hofstadgroup participants and the extensive police files on the group Becoming a European Homegrown Jihadist overcomes the scarcity of high quality data that has hampered the study of terrorism for decades The book advances a multicausal and multilevel understanding of involvement in European homegrown jihadism that is critical of the currently prevalent radicalization based explanatory frameworks It stresses that the factors that initiate involvement are separate from those that sustain it which in turn are again likely to differ from those that bring some individuals to actual acts of terrorism This is a key resource for scholars of terrorism and all those interested in understanding the pathways that can lead to involvement in European homegrown jihadism

Guiora,2013-12-13 Over the years numerous tragic events serve as a reminder of the extraordinary power of extremism both on a religious and secular level As extremism confronts society on a daily basis it is essential to analyze comprehend and define it It is also essential to define extremism narrowly in order to avoid the danger of recklessly castigating for mere thoughts alone Tolerating Intolerance provides readers with a focused definition of extremism and articulates the tensions faced in casting an arbitrary capricious net in an effort to protect society while offering mechanisms to resolve its seemingly intractable conundrum Professor Guiora examines extremism in six different countries Germany Israel the Netherlands Norway the United Kingdom and the United States through interviews with a wide range of individuals including academics policy makers faith leaders public commentators national security and law enforcement officials This enables both an in depth discussion of extremism in each country and facilitates a comparative analysis regarding both religious and secular extremism     Engaging with Violent Islamic Extremism Floris Vermeulen,Frank Bovenkerk,2012 The terrorist attacks at the start of the new millennium shook the world In Western countries the new threat of home grown Islamic terrorism has directed the authorities attention towards local Muslim communities Islamic terrorism is generally seen as a sign of the lack of integration of these communities Authorities therefore often opt for preventive policies in which the engagement with Muslim organizations and spokespersons plays a significant role However this engagement comes with its own problems and dilemmas Should authorities aim for a broad representation of the community or instead go for selective engagement Are non violent fundamentalist organizations also to be seen as the enemy Should authorities enter into public debate with extremist organizations Is it wise to link anti radicalization policies to more general integration policies Engaging with Violent Islamic Extremism shows how authorities in London Berlin Amsterdam Paris and Antwerp have each developed distinctive policies and how they have dealt with the accompanying dilemmas The book distills various approaches that can be assessed by their merits and defects thus stimulating important reflection on the what why and how of anti radicalization policy This is a well done scholarly collection of case studies It is devoid of the usual political correctness and goes right to the heart of the matter a useful guide to the political and social leadership of other cities in Europe and the Americas who face similar challenges and one that is refreshingly distinct in its frankness Richard R E Kania International Criminal Justice Review Vol 23 403 404

The Rage Julia Ebner, 2019 The early twenty first century has been defined by a rise in Islamist radicalisation and a concurrent rise in far right extremism This book explores the interaction between the new far right and Islamist extremists and considers the consequences for the global terror threat Julia Ebner argues that far right and Islamist extremist narratives The West is at war with Islam and Muslims are at war with the West complement each other perfectly making the two extremes rhetorical allies and building a spiralling torrent of hatred The Rage By looking at extremist movements both online and offline she shows how far right and Islamist extremists have succeeded in penetrating each other s echo chambers as a result of their mutually useful messages Based on first hand interviews this book introduces readers to the world of reciprocal radicalisation and the hotbeds of extremism that have developed with potentially disastrous consequences in the UK Europe and the US
