America's Urban Crisis and the Advent of Color-Blind Politics Curtis L. Ivery, Joshua Bassett, 2011-09-16 Over 40 years ago the historic Kerner Commission Report declared that America was undergoing an urban crisis whose effects were disproportionately felt by underclass populations In America's Urban Crisis and the Advent of Color blind Politics Curtis Ivery and Joshua Bassett explore the persistence of this crisis today despite public beliefs that America has become a post racial nation after the election of Barack Obama to the presidency Ivery and Bassett combine their own experience in the fields of civil rights and education with the knowledge of more than 20 experts in the field of urban studies to provide an accessible overview of the theories of the urban underclass and how they affect America's urban crisis This engaging look into the still present racial politics in America's cities adds significantly to the existing scholarship on the urban underclass by discussing the role of the prison industrial complex in sustaining the urban crisis as well as the importance of the concept of multiracial democracy to the future of American politics and society America's Urban Crisis and the Advent of Color blind Politics encourages the reader not only to be aware of persisting racial inequalities but to actively engage in efforts to respond to them AF Press Clips, 1971 National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collections Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Descriptive Cataloging Division, Library of Congress. Manuscripts Section, 1992 Based on reports from American repositories of manuscripts

Race and Displacement Maha Marouan, Merinda Simmons, 2013-09-30 Race and Displacement captures a timely set of discussions about the roles of race in displacement forced migrations nation and nationhood and the way continuous movements of people challenge fixed racial definitions The multifaceted approach of the essays in Race and Displacement allows for nuanced discussions of race and displacement in expansive ways exploring those issues in transnational and global terms. The contributors not only raise questions about race and displacement as signifying tropes and lived experiences they also offer compelling approaches to conversations about race displacement and migration both inside and outside the academy. Taken together these essays become a case study in dialogues across disciplines providing insight from scholars in diaspora studies postcolonial studies literary theory race theory gender studies and migration studies. The contributors to this volume use a variety of analytical and disciplinary methodologies to track multiple articulations of how race is encountered and defined. The book is divided by editors Maha Marouan and Merinda Simmons into four sections. Race and Nation considers the relationships between race and corporality in transnational histories of migration using literary and oral narratives. Essays in Race and Place explore the ways spatial mobility in the twentieth century influences and transforms notions of racial and cultural identity. Essays in Race and Nationality address race and its configuration in national policy such as racial labeling federal regulations and immigration law. In the last section Race and the Imagination contributors explore the role imaginative projections play in shaping understandings of race. Together these essays tackle the question of how we might productively engage race and place in new sociopolitical contexts. Tracing the roles of race from the corporeal and material to the imaginative the essays chart new ways that concepts of origin region migration displacement and diasporic memory create understandings of race in literature social performance and national policy.
